

E-Learning

E-learning is an on-line method of receiving and completing work for a qualification. It is a more flexible way of distance learning, as it is not necessary to come into college for underpinning knowledge sessions. Candidates will be assigned an 'e-tutor' and will also be assessed in the workplace. On the website learners can access work, standards, background reading, receive support and submit assignments.

At Chiltern we are offering online training course in child care and management. Candidates must attend one e-tutorial per half term and they may also attend our Distance Learning class on a Wednesday evening if they wish.

Current learners can also request a username and password to the e-learning site where they can access future units of work and submit work.
